

EC EREKCLACKS

Our speaker today has served as a U.S. Army Major, Human Resources Director, Educator, University Professor, Best-Selling Author, Entrepreneur, and Humanitarian. He is the best-selling author of the book "Have the Courage to Try," and his research focuses on self-leadership. He is passionate about helping students take control of their futures by having the courage to take accountability for their lives. As much as he loves speaking, his favorite roles are being a father and a husband. Today, he travels the country speaking to students at conferences, conventions, and other events.

Please welcome Dr. Erek Clacks, Major, retired U.S. Army
